forecast reliability: ★★☆☆

In the morning, medium-to-high cloud banks will pass through, resulting in partly cloudy skies, with locally cloudy conditions over the mountains along the international border. In the afternoon, the medium-to-high cloud cover will clear, leading to clear skies, with a few cumulus clouds over the mountains along the border with Piedmont.

Winds: 3,000 m, moderate from the NW, locally and temporarily strong in the mountains along the eastern border. In the central-western valleys, winds will be light from the W-NW in the morning and moderate in the afternoon; in the eastern valleys, winds will be light from the W-NW until around 11 a.m., then light from the E-SE, shifting back to the W-NW in the late afternoon.

Temperatures: High temperatures in the valleys will remain steady or rise slightly; in the mountains, they will remain steady.
